'Was my friend a spycop?' publication now out

— Was My Friend A Spycop? guide now available.

A guide to the do's and don't's of investigating if a comrade was an undercover police officer is released today,

In this 24 page booklet, we have brought together all the lessons we have learned to help you do your own investigation.

It covers how to start investigating and the sorts of questions that need answering. Equally importantly, we discuss how to support each other or deal with situations which are inconclusive. It takes you through the process step by step, so even if you have already started your own investigation there is help with what to do once you have come to a conclusion.

John Graham and behind the scenes in 1968

Posted on August 24, 2017

The impact of the protests of 1968 on reshaping left-wing politics is well-known. It also had another important effect, the development of political policing through the use of specialist undercovers to spy on protest movements. One of those early spies, the Undercover Policing Inquiry has now revealed was a 'John Graham'. Examining what little is known of him has allowed a rare light to be shone on the much less studied events behind the scenes leading to the outpouring of protest that year.

Politics in 1968 was dominated by the United States involvement in the Vietnam War. In the UK, the opposition was led by the Vietnam Solidarity Campaign, a broad coalition of hard-left groups, but in the main led by Trotskyists. It was the VSC which organised the mass protest of March 1968, when thousands of protesters occupied Grosvenor Square and fought with police to get access to the US Embassy there. This caused huge embarrassment to the Labour Government of its time. With a second big demonstration being organised that October, the pressure was on the police to gather intelligence to prevent a repetition – and it was this which directly led to the setting up of the notorious spycop unit, the Special Demonstration Squad under Det. Ch. Insp. Conrad Dixon.

1968 was also important because it was the year radical student politics came into its own. At the heart of this was the Revolutionary Socialist Students Federation (RSSF). Again a broad church coalition many of its leading lights came from the same Trotskyist milieu as the VSC. The core of the activists was based in and around north west London – Camden, Hampstead, Kilburn and the like.

Studying 'John Graham' has been a fascinating exploration of the history of the time, allowing us to examine rarely seen archives which documented some of the internal workings of the VSC. For anyone looking at an understanding of the history of protest at the time, our profile is possibly worth a read for that reason alone.

Three New Spycops Named - But Others Get Hidden

Posted on August 14, 2017

Repost from Campaign Opposing Police Surveillance, 14 August 2017.

The public inquiry into undercover political policing has published three new names of spycops and, for the first time, they're new names rather than just confirming what activists, whistleblowers and journalists had already revealed.

However, among the hefty tranche of new papers from Inquiry Chair Sir John Mitting are grave indications of that he is seeking to prevent the full truth coming to light.

Having dragged out the process of beginning the inquiry for years, earlier this year the Metropolitan Police were given a firm timetable for applying for 'restriction orders' for the anonymity of undercover officers.

As expected, the Met are pushing for maximum secrecy, arguing that it would make officers worried and sad to be publicly known for what they've done. The Met also argue that the officers would be at risk of violent reprisal, despite nothing of the kind happening to the swathe of officers who have been very publicly exposed since 2010. With deadlines passing, the Met have had their hand forced and, finally, we are getting a small measure of new information from the Inquiry.

THREE NEW SPYCOPS

As had been suggested by some victims, the new names are all from the early days of the Special Demonstration Squad in the late 1960s and early 1970s. With those involved being of advanced age, there's some merit in tackling these cases first. Indeed, one of the three newly named officers is already dead.

Read on at the COPS website

Updated list of known spycops, it's still only 23 out of at least 144.

Rod Richardson - a pivotal spycop

Posted on June 27, 2017

— Undercover police officer 'Rod Richardson', who infiltrated protest groups from 1999 to 2003.

Donal O'Driscoll, Undercover Research Group, 28 June 2017

Yesterday, we released our profile of undercover officer 'Rod Richardson'. It is one of our largest profiles to date, three years in preparation, with dozens who knew him interviewed. We spent this time and effort because, of those exposed to date, we believe Rod is one of the most important and his deployment raises significant questions.

(Also see: Rod Richardson: #spycop was used to undermine protest, 26 June 2017)

What we know of Rod is that he was deployed in Summer 1999, in Essex, where he turned up at the Save Gorse Woods campaign at Rettendon. There he offered his house as a facility to other protestors. From 2000 he becomes involved in two strands of work. In London he focuses on anti-globalisation and anarchist groups such as W.O.M.B.L.E.S and Movement Against the Monarchy (MA'M). The other is infiltrating environmental networks, such as Earth First! and particularly the alternative scene in Nottingham. He disappears in Summer 2003, saying he was joining his girlfriend abroad.

Rod was not a passive observer of the activism he targeted. He threw himself in head-first. He was on the front line or driving for big demonstrations. Carefully documenting his time in London, we can place him close to the centre of quite a few events which saw heavy policing, such as Mayday, DSEi and anti-monarchy protests.

There is good cause to believe that it was his intelligence that lay behind a number of pre-emptive arrests and targeting of squats and campaigners. When we studied contemporary newspaper accounts, it was clear how heavily the police were relying upon such intelligence. Having confirmed his presence at the time, it is now clear that Rod is a strong candidate for being their principal source. Continue reading →

Rod Richardson: #spycop was used to undermine protest

Posted on June 21, 2017

Eveline Lubbers, Undercover Research Group, 26 June 2017

Today we publish the profile of Rod Richardson, the undercover officer active as an environmental, anarchist and animal rights protestor between 1999 and 2003 in Essex, London and Nottingham. Richardson was exposed on Indymedia UK and in The Guardian in 2013 and confirmed as a spycop in December 2016.

Piecing together the profile of Rod Richardson and the details of his tour of duty in the world of activism, it occurred to us that the policing of two major protests he had been involved in had been subject to extensive legal challenges since.

Today we look at the forced return of the Fairford coaches on their way to an anti-war rally in 2003, with Rod Richardson on board; and part 2 will investigate the kettling of MayDay protesters at Oxford Circus in London in 2001, again with Rod in the middle of everything. In both cases, the police detained a fairly large and mixed group of people in quite extreme ways, while also in both cases protesters fought a decade-long legal battle to uphold their right to protest.

Investigate exactly what role he has played in these protests, the core question is to what extent the intelligence gathered and the activities of the undercover officers influenced the actual policing of these events.

Spycop liberated chickens, and other updates on Andy Coles

Donal O'Driscoll, Undercover Research Group, 6 June 2017

Since the exposure of Andy Coles as the former spycop Andy 'Van' Davey, more information on him has been steadily trickling in. We've collected the most important updates:

- Infiltrating the anti-war group ARROW
- Another allegation of inappropriate behaviour
- Andy's role in a 1993 chicken liberation;
- Questions over possibly illegally obtained police warrants.

New discoveries: infiltrating anti-war groups

Peace News has revealed that prior to infiltrating animal rights groups, Andy Coles targeted the small but highly visible anti-war group Gulf War Resisters, later Active Resistance against the Roots of War (ARROW). As Andy Davey, he attended their meetings and demos throughout 1991. Peace News also unearthed the first proper full face photo of Andy undercover (shown above), and two of him on a protest.

Davey's time as an anti-war protester preceded his tour in animal rights, but his cover was already in place – he would wear the clothes, and use the same pager and the van he would appear with later on. To the anti-war activists he made out that he was already involved in the Animal Liberation Front – not true as far as we know – which he used to add an aura of mysteriousness about his background. In Peace News Emily Johns explains she found this very weird at the time:

He told me, to impress me I thought, that he was a press officer for the ALF (Animal Liberation Front).

I remember thinking: 'What kind of a fool do you take me for? Or what kind of a fool are you to tell me that?' The ALF was and still is a very secretive group, carrying out direct action against animal exploitation. Either Andy was not a press officer for the ALF, and he thought that I was the kind of person who would be impressed by that boast, or he was an ALF press officer breaking the secrecy of the group with someone he barely knew.

Lord Justice Pitchford is clearly very reluctant to release any personal information about those who were spied on beyond the details the Undercover Policing Inquiry feels that it needs to conduct its investigations. This is not the same, of course, as releasing the files that were gathered on individuals so they can understand the extent of the intelligence gathering and surveillance on them. So, let's help them a bit! Continue reading →

Today we expose Andy Davey who was undercover in the animal rights movement in the early 1990s. His real name is Andy Coles, and he is currently a Tory councillor and Deputy Police and Crime Commissioner.

Simon Israel at Channel4 News at 7pm has an interview with 'Jessica', the woman Coles groomed into a relationship when she was just 19, and in the Guardian Rob Evans has Jessica calling for Coles to resign.

Finding Andy

Each discovery of a new undercover police officer in protest movement comes with its own unique twists and turns. For Andy Coles, it began with a small paragraph in the autobiography of his more famous brother, the former popstar (The Communards!) Rev. Richard Coles. From there we were able to track not only what he got up to undercover, but also where he is now. These days, he is a Tory councillor and Deputy Police and Crime Commissioner for Cambridgeshire and Peterborough.

The painstakingly unravelling of a hidden identity and documenting the activities of spycops is a process that usually takes months and months. More often than not, what you are left with after excruciating amounts of sifting out false positives is only 95% certainty that someone had indeed been a spycop.

Finding Andy Coles was a very different story: it moved much faster. His undercover persona Andy Davey, also known as Andy 'Van', was first outed by his former animal rights comrade Paul Gravett online in 2014. At the time, little was known other than that Andy fitted the pattern of spycops discovered to date. However, the investigation began in earnest when in January 2017 we got a little help from some friends. Someone reading Fathomless Riches, Or How I Went From Pop to Pulpit, the autobiography of the pop star, broadcaster and Anglican priest Richard Coles, spotted the following intriguing paragraph:

My older brother, Andy, brought his own drama with him. He looked like he had just walked out of the woods, his hair long and shaggy, with a straggly beard, his ears rattling with piercings; but his disarray was not like mine, an outward sign of internal distress, but suffered in the line of duty. He had joined Special Branch and was undercover, living a double life, infiltrated into some sinister organisation while his wife and baby daughter made do with unpredictable visits.

How activists dealt with Stasi Tactics before the fall of the Berlin wall

Posted on April 20, 2017

Repost of Max Hertzberg's blog Stories from the edge of utopia, 22 November 2016. Pics by Carrie/1000 blackbirds.

N.B. In general, we are careful not to compare the UK #spycops saga with a totalitarian state systematically spying on its citizens. Max however has studied Stasi files and spoke to people spied upon.

Taking a look at the experiences of political activists in East Germany (GDR) who had to deal with Stasi informants and infiltration before the fall of the Berlin Wall in 1989, this post is based on interviews with people who were politically active in East German times, and reflects their experiences. Those familiar with how police spies have been used for example in Britain may recognise the tactics used by both secret police and GDR activists.

The invasive spying and disorientation tactics used by the East German secret police (Stasi) meant there were significantly fewer possibilities for civil disobedience and direct action than political grassroots activists have today in countries places such as Western Europe and North America. Nevertheless political activists in East Germany managed to start a grassroots revolution in 1989.

East German opposition and activism

Because non-state organisations were prohibited in the GDR, networking and co-ordination between activists was informal: independent groups and networks stayed in contact through newsletters and the exchange of campaign materials, and there was a mix of local and regionally co-ordinated covert and open actions.

Activists in the GDR also campaigned on issues that will feel familiar to many campaigners today: anti-nuclear and peace issues, challenging economic paradigms of growth and consumption at any cost; resistance to an undemocratic state and its activities; propagating and practising sustainable choices versus exploitation of environment and animals. There was a strong emphasis on DIY culture with egalitarian, equitable principles – politically most activists in the GDR in the 1980s self-defined as socialist or anarchist. Continue reading →

Direct-entry detectives scheme 'not the answer'

11 June 2018

The secretary of the Police Federation's National Detective Forum Karen Stephens has warned a new direct entry scheme is not the answer to the crisis facing detective policing.

Her comments come in response to the Home Office's announcement that it is to launch a new national accelerated scheme, led by Police Now, which will deliver training within 12 weeks and introduce 1,000 detectives over the next five years.

Ms Stephens said: "This news is an insult to the experienced hard-working detectives that we have left in service.

"Detective policing is in crisis and our colleagues are struggling to cope with heavy workloads and increasing demand but another 'direct entry scheme' is not the answer.

"The service and the public deserve better than detective officers who will be trained 'in a matter of months'. Let's not forget that detective officers deal with the most depraved and complex of crimes - this requires experience. Also, new, inexperienced detectives will require a lot of supervision, putting extra pressure on those already in service.

"What about encouraging officers we already have in service to move into investigative policing? What about making detective policing a desired career choice? What about listening to the practitioners and voice of the service?

"The answer is not to disregard the skills and experience we already have, or show complete disrespect for officers who have worked hard to become investigators.

"We already have a 'streaming' process, where people join as officers and have time in uniform - if they show an interest in investigation then they can start on the programme. This is more of a middle ground.

"There is already a 'direct entry detective' programme within the Metropolitan Police that has not yet been through an evaluation process so we cannot say if it is effective or not. Therefore it does not make financial sense to plough more money into a scheme that has not been through a thorough evaluation.

"Detectives in the UK are the best in the world because they cut their teeth on the front line and have learned on the job, through years of experience.

"Whilst we welcome any new investment in policing, this appears to be divisive and ill-conceived. A direct entry scheme will serve to shatter morale even more and do nothing to instil public confidence and trust."

Karen Stephens secretary of the PFNDF

MI5 ANDREW DEDMAN-ANDREW DEDMAN MI5

≡ M E N U

<https://socialistpartygreatbritain.wordpress.com>

ANDREW DEDMAN MI5

BELOW BRITISH INTELLIGENCE NUCLEAR BUNKER (HERFORD,UK) PART OF ANDREW DEDMANS OPERATIONAL AREA IN NORTH LONDON.

The web site detailed below is where you can find more information on Andrew Dedman :

<https://socialistpartygreatbritain.wordpress.com>

Andrew Dedman left The British Army and joined the British Police, it is believed he was transferred because mathematically the badge number he was allocated to use as a police officer, (every police officer has their own badge or identity number on the "force") was 1001 ! the emphasis here is the actual mathematical chances of owning this badge number in the British Police are practically ZERO its a computation that runs into many hundreds of thousands, as there are many hundreds of thousands of police officers so we believe it was a badge number on "Stand by". As we all know 1001 is a British expression or phrase only in this particular persons instance its a thousand and one misuses as opposed to uses. Andrew Dedman by name and nature was not a regular police officer. The name itself is an anagram of ...and your a deadman... A typically sinister calling card left on police files, court paperwork etc researches who quite often browse through British Intelligence files and Police Intelligence files would "lock" onto the "coding" of coming across a name of DEATH 1001. Because of his initial location a town known as Hertford, Hertfordshire where he worked as a mere detective constable it is thought that he was part of a undercover military unit within the police or even a secret police officer, that is a police officer who has different roles, his expertise and British Army knowledge would have made him prime time for the job, still being able to work with the British Army itself. This is because 20-30 years ago Hertford was the quintessential MI5 village situated far enough outside of London's capital served with two railway stations (not many towns in UK have two railway stations!) the British railway station from Hertford actually takes trains right inside of the tube station underground!!! Moorgate station to be precise so this made security arrangements for MI5 workers less hassle to get around. Hertford itself is a rabbit warren a complete Maze, it had one of only three types of emergency nuclear underground base stations this can be found on google by typing <http://www.urbexdevil.co.uk/srhq-4-2-regional-government-bunker/> the Town has hundreds of inter connected footpaths, there everywhere, canals, rivers, viaducts, lakes, wooded areas nearby now abandoned air strip... the list goes on and on just look at google maps and everything within 5 miles radius of Hertford itself on the map and twenty years ago the place was a lot more quiet and the police were right good chaps. Andrew Dedman for his sins was a nasty right winger who tampered and experimented with systems and law probably the type that was very much aware of people like Oswald Moseley in fact Dedman looks remarkably similar to this man. He was a brutally cold police officer across between a ferret and British Army stiff upper lip type although the kind of skinny/medium type build chap that you would find camping somewhere in the middle of the Brecon Beacons eating worms and rumours surfacing on the net indicate he left the police and was found by Mossad agents living in Turkey they apparently got real personal by naming him a man with American armed force tattoos on his left arm on an alleged IDF site in Israel. Dedman probably is part of a sinister network of espionage/crime/drugs as Turkey is not the sort of place a person would willingly live in being British Born no offence to the Turkish people here but it isn't many folks ideal port of call, he's either hiding there or working or both and probably for both sides at the same time if you know what I mean.... Dedman tampered with the British Police force PNC computer system leaving a trail of disinformation behind him the extent of which will probably remain another MI5 well kept secret, these types of police officers have been involved in creating DATA BANKS which are not only used by police but Diplomats and British Intelligence which is part of creating the capitalist infrastructure of Britain itself all information is a tradeable commodity and at some point ends up in the Kremlin or Washington. Some folk say that the only thing that's secret about MI5 is where they live and how much money they earn each year everything else goes through the back door in one form or another... sorry chaps but that's the word... Dedman was involved in programming prisoners and the British mafia and Dedman itself is more a ring of pirates or network of people including criminals that help maintain protection within Britain.

WIKI LEAKS IRELANDS CIA OPERATIONS

- Rubbish bin [1]

The all American Illuminati are using the services of another order known as Irelands "Old Guard" this organisation is so deeply rooted that it cant be bypassed. Corrupt Diplomats and corrupt politicians form the dna make up of some of the members of this organisation/order whom over the last decades have operated under a blanket of secrecy as powerfull as the illuminati itself frequently violating international laws behind closed doors, one very good example is British Intelligence service placing British doctors inside of the Midlands Prison in the Republic of Ireland. As countries such as America privately buy their way into the Republic of Ireland CIA expenditure becomes politically obvious aswell as an unavoidable residue which leaves other law enforcement agencies such as the FBI no alternative but to become clandestine and renegade in their operations within the Republic of Ireland. A book called Black Mass written by Dick Lehr, Gerard O Neil explains clearly how the FBI recruited criminals (the mob) into their own workings, the powers that be have exported the same ideas to the Republic of Ireland where a collective of entities can more or less be categorised as being Irelands equivalent. Far right wing farmers (in control of land mass), Failed and illegal tax loss companies (more ground base knowledge than FBI), Former Political activists (Intelligence and logistics), Drug Cartels (state enforced violence) are being recruited to work for the FBI in areas that include surveillance of undesirables. The Feds provide their badges to protect the illegals read about in the newspapers and other operations, information on undesirables filters back to the FBI through organisations such as Pearse Street Garda Station (Irish Police). Bent cops Bent Solicitors are all protected by the FBI along with judges and politicians and even if illegals are used to get evidence that is excepted.

Undesirable categorisation can often be generated on computer systems by various persons in various countries for example British home Office workers following alleged British Tax evaders in the Republic of Ireland can get names forwarded to FBI agents. There are certain politically sensitive areas within the republic of Ireland both on land and within business where this categorisation of person is becoming more and more predominant and getting black listed is becoming increasingly easier as the far right within Ireland become more desperate in keeping control over their ill gotten gains. President Trump himself has invested heavily into such areas before being voted in, he owns both land property and businesses including Golf courses in Ireland and so it would be obvious to the reader why certain undesirables in their minds are not welcome. President John F Kennedy was of Irish decent and used many methods to gain political control, Bill Clinton on the other hand has many vested and private interests within the Republic of Ireland, his own organisation the Clinton Foundation (long suspected of having CIA financing) recruited Irelands richest man Dennis O'Brien into their mists.

Dennis O'Brien owns newspapers, radio programs, security companies, petrol companies, telecommunications companies. The book recently published called Clinton Cash written by Peter Schweizer explains how O'Brien gave Clinton a quarter of a million Euro sum of money to attend private parties in Ireland and give talks over dinner. A person can't join the Clinton foundation you are hand picked the organisation itself carries out work such as building hospitals and schools in politically sensitive countries yet between them both they can't build much needed hospitals and schools in Ireland. Exports are low in Ireland and offshore a rapidly new expanding sphere so espionage in Ireland is becoming a profitable business with countries such as Russia South America and China expanding operations into new territory that physically joins onto British land mass. Areas such as shopping centres, libraries train stations, bus stops are effectively areas that require surveillance for example the working class and middle class in Ireland are pathetically apathetic to exposing political antidotes on wifi systems within libraries however if you attempt to rock the boat using a wifi system in an Irish library it's not a recommendation. The old guard use intermediates as part of their own structure however these same intermediates are also used by the FBI that way information flows in different directions, intermediates can include, doctors, solicitors, farmers, land owners, Irish Police, librarians, alleged businessmen, drug cartels, health board officials, military, judges

This article has been produced because of the high level of Eastern European activity within Ireland. The Chinese and eastern Europeans are creating Irish history and quite often clash in political ideology with the old guard and the FBI. The modus operandi of the old guard has been over the last few decades a darkly kept secret hopefully this article sheds light on who really controls this country that sits on Britain's border.

MI6 under fire from GSOC mole

- General discussion [1]

GSOC AND FURTHER GOVERNMENT SECRECY

On Sunday 6/7/2014 Sunday times published an article by Conor Brady a former GSOC Commisioner, a very powerfull and informative piece of journalism, outlining what the new Garda Siochana (amendment) act 2014 will bring into power for the "New GSOC".

Unfortunately however when certain Breaches in security itself have been identified and require legal solutions hypothetical anaylsis and parameters surrounding evidence itself become meaningless, once a state of security becomes obtainable. Infact the Irish Independent announced on the front cover of its newspaper on June 12th this year "HUNT FOR MOLE WHO BREACHED SECURITY AT GARDA WATCHDOG" make no hesitation GSOC called in the lawyers with a view to a kill.

Whilst certain members of "think tanks" have designs and ideas that are catapulting forward at incomprehensible speeds regarding GSOC new look and future. This articlele intends to freeze the big picture and put into context what security means within real issues.

In policing and CIA work security breaches allow emmediate sequestration regardless of court proceedings. Simon o Brien chairman of GSOC has been exposed by wiki forces as a former British Police Officer, arguable all the ingredients for further speculation infact many here in Ireland are calling for his resignation and for many obvious reasons.

Final point here when security breaches are legally established in Banks ,Government buildings, then the Security Industry always presumes assumption that if its happened already then its happened before. Gsoc and the Irish Government are of no consequence within the papameters of GSOCs breaches within security issues itself, because without arrest or convictions over alleged GSOC Breaches within law itself in our domain we now have the affirmative right to determine that other formats of data and intelligence have been removed without the publics knowledge or consent breaching human rights. Force majeure.

IPCC hire Jean charles de Menezes killers

Thu, 07/08/2014 - 3:46pm &#151; scarebear

Type at google Gsoc security and protocol issues debate Feb 2014.

This is a Government report that explains the IPCC were involved in contracting Verrimus Security through the IPCC itself. The BBC has already exposed issues regarding this matter. Verrimus have been quoted as admitting they are run by British Army have in the past worked with MI5 in projects also other Enforcement agency work and employ members of special force units from Britain.

The Ipcc were involved in investigating Menezes death

Game over .

Denis O Brien richest man in Ireland buying into mi6 intelligence.

Well where back to where we started folks,who exactly controls what? and who cares? There is a very nast man denis Obrien hes been caught red handed buying up lots of companies over the last few years that owe money to Banks however what the press in europe has forgot to tell us is that he works for the CIA.At first this may seem a bit brash however furthjer erm research into denis shows us that hes a close friend of former US president Bill Clinton so close infact that he is a member of the Bill Clinton Foundation!

Bill Clinton has been buying intelligence with pentagon money.....O Brien does deals with banks intelligence held by security companies in exchange for debt write offs theres plenty of evidence upon the internert of O briens activities and this means all the mi6 files irish companies can hack into infact much buisness in ireland and other countries sucks intelligence out of Britains secretly held data files...
